MODIFICATION OF LAND APPLICATION PERMIT
APPENDIX "C" TO PERMIT No. LA-000050-02

PERMITTEE NAME: THE AMALGAMATED SUGAR COMPANY (TASCO)

EFFECTIVE DATE
OF THIS MODIFICATION: DECEMBER 10, 1999

Complete Description of Modification:

I. Schedule A is hereby amended to add the following condition:

9. The North and South Schow acreages are permitted for condensate wastewater-land treatment during the 1999-2000 non-growing season (ending March 31, 2000) according to the limits set forth in the table below. No limit in this table shall be exceeded.

Acreage/Site Loading Limits[1]	South Schow	North Schow
Acres	65	155
WW[2] Loading - NGS[3] (ac-in/ac-yr)[4]	4	4
WW NVDS[5] Loading (lb/ac-yr)	642	642
NGS COD[6] loading (lb/ac-d)	25	25
Nitrogen Loading (lb/ac-yr)	85	85

Footnotes:

1) The values in the table represent maximum limits of various constituents that may be applied.
2) WW = wastewater
3) NGS - non-growing season; defined as November 1 through March 31.
4) A WW hydraulic loading rate limit per acre is given in the event the permittee does not wish to utilize the entire acreage of a permitted hydraulic management unit. So long as the permittee stays below the total WW loading limit, WW may be applied to select portions of hydraulic management units to long as the WW hydraulic loading rate (ac-in/ac-yr) is not exceeded.
5) NVDS = non-volatile dissolved solids; This is a rough measure of inorganic TDS (salts). It may be calculated by subtracting volatile dissolved solids (VDS) from total dissolved solids (TDS).
6) NGS COD loading limit of 25 lb/ac-d is based on a 151 day NGS.

a) Buffer zones of 100 feet between dwellings and the North and South Schow acreages shall be maintained.

b) Monitoring of the North and South Schow acreages: The facility shall monitor the operation and efficiency of wastewater-land application and report data and calculations as per Schedule B of the permit.

c) Nitrogen loading for the Year 2000 growing season on the North and South Schow acreages shall be governed by University of Idaho fertilizer guidelines, utilizing appropriate soil sampling data.

II. Schedule A No.7e, footnote 3) is hereby modified as follows:

3) NGS = non-growing season; defined as November 1 through March 31. GS = growing season; defined as April 1 through October 31.
