- Members of the WAG identified Cub Creek, Calamity Creek, and the Jordan Creek headwaters as streams needing further investigation as part of the sediment TMDL 5 year review. WAG members, especially the Forest Service, provided information about their condition that suggests they are not impaired by sediment. In 2012, all three assessment units were sampled by DEQ’s BURP bioassessment crew. Kajsja will share some of the preliminary information that could build into a delisting proposal for the next Integrated Report, and will request WAG input.
