

Instructor biography

Andy O'Neill, a resident of Lewiston, Idaho, provides technical assistance to municipal wastewater facilities. He is a specialist in wastewater certification training, process control, asset management, and regulatory compliance reporting. His education, field work, and managerial experiences continue to forge alliances, inspire shared visions, and turn details into deliverables.

Mr. O'Neill's background includes serving in various roles such as a wastewater treatment plant operator, facilities manager, board member for the State of Washington's Wastewater Certification Advisory Committee, past president of the Water Environment Federations (WEF) member association Pacific Northwest Clean Water Association (PNCWA), and he currently serves as a member of the Association of Boards of Certification's (ABC) Wastewater Scheme Committee.

Mr. O'Neill earned his Master's degree from Gonzaga University in Organizational Leadership and is ABC certified in the states of Washington, Idaho, and Oregon as a Level IV wastewater treatment plant operator.
