PUBLIC COMMENTS AND RESPONSES

Comment 1: On page 3 Permit scope Purpose 1.1 it says that we manufacture mobile homes and also man camps. Our company lawyer thinks this may restrict us on our building and thinks we should change it to modular structures.

Response 1: The permit to construct has been updated to describe the facility is a manufacturer of modular structures. The fabrication process is contained within a large enclosure.

Section 1.1 of the permit has been modified as follows.

This is the initial permit to construct (PTC) for a manufacturer of ~~mobile homes and smaller dwellings called "man camps"~~ modular structures. The fabrication process is contained within a large enclosure. Emission units at the facility include wood saws, planer operations, sanding operations, gluing/caulking, cleaning operations, painting, welding, small natural gas heaters and a 36 horsepower diesel engine.
