

What is a Prescribed Fire Council?

Mission of the National Coalition of Prescribed Fire Councils:

To promote the appropriate use of prescribed fire for enhancing public safety, managing resources, and sustaining the environment. prescribedfire.net

What do Prescribed Fire Councils do in other states?

Partnering prescribed fire councils' efforts which collectively represent 12 million acres of annual prescribed fire use, has created a forum to voice and address issues of national concern.

Washington: Helped in the passage of house bill 2928: Forest Resiliency Burning pilot project.
~Public education such as putfiretowork.org.

Florida: 45 years of educational outreach
~Support of the certified burn manager program for Florida citizens (~1,800 certified)
~Fire as a tool is supported across all goals.

Oregon: Impacted air quality and smoke at national and state levels.
~Public information campaigns.

Nebraska: Coordinate training events for landowners, agencies, and fire departments.
~Support research based on questions from the council.

IDAHO RX COUNCIL

Who can be involved?

Anyone who has an interest in promoting or understanding the use of prescribed fire in Idaho. Private land-owners, federal, state and private land managers, tribes, air quality regulators, policy makers, and involved citizens.

How to learn more and get involved!

Visit www.IdahoPrescribedFireCouncil.org to sign up to get more information about our two workshops on March 3rd in Moscow and March 5th in Twin Falls in conjunction with the Idaho burners meeting.

At the workshops you will....

- Meet others that are interested in prescribed fire.
- Hear from representatives from other prescribed fire councils.
- See examples of how prescribed fire can be used as a land management tool.

Share ideas on what a prescribed fire council can do in Idaho.

What can a Prescribed Fire Council do for Idaho?

- Promote the safe and effective use of prescribed fire for healthy forests and rangelands, wildlife, and fire resilient communities across Idaho.
- Connect prescribed fire practitioners so they can share knowledge and resources.
- Inform Idaho residents about prescribed fire use and benefits.
- Increase support and capacity for using fire as a management tool.
